SERIES BACKGROUND:

In 2005 Jim French Productions added a new entry to its ensemble of radio detective series: The Hilary Caine Mysteries. The Hilary Caine character was the creation of British writer M J Elliott. He has written several short stories about Hilary that have been published in the United Kingdom. M J wrote all-new adventures for radio dramatization. Elliott was also the primary writer for Raffles, The Gentleman Thief and The Classic Adventures Of Sherlock Holmes and has penned many scripts for Imagination Theatre, Kincaid, The Strangeseeker, The Adventures Of Harry Nile, and The Further Adventures Of Sherlock Holmes.

The Hilary Caine Mysteries aired as part of Imagination Theatre on KIXI in Seattle and was syndicated as part of Imagination Theatre on radio stations in the United States and New Zealand. It was also heard around the world over the Internet.

SERIES DESCRIPTION:

Hilary Caine was a young woman who shares a trait possessed by some famous fictional detectives; that of ratiocination: the ability to investigate using a reasoned train of thought. In the early episodes of the series, she was employed by the English tabloid Tittle-Tattle Magazine in the capacity of "Girl Detective."

Her 1930s and 1940's cases, published under the banner of "Hilary Caine, Girl Detective," are all rewritten by the Tittle-Tattle staff to remove Hilary's various personality quirks and present her in the most positive light as a cross between the illustrious Sherlock Holmes and his low-rent cousin, Sexton Blake. She sometimes belittles her skill as a detective and promises herself that she will soon quit the employ of the sleazy tabloid and find a real job.

As a result of living a real and imaginary life, Hilary was occasionally confused about where fact ends and fiction begins. For example, she sometimes claims to have met several celebrated fictional detectives including Sherlock Holmes.

Special Imagination Theatre 15th Anniversary Broadcast:

"Fifteen Years Later: Chapter 10 of War Comes to Harry Nile"

A special episode of The Adventures Of Harry Nile. This double-length story celebrated 15 years of Imagination Theatre broadcasts and features guest stars

The time was June, 1944 and following the events of Chapter 3, "D-Day Minus One," Harry was still in England waiting to get a flight home. However, he wasn't bored. He managed to get himself involved with murder, treason and a former "girl" detective. He also encountered an aged consulting detective; a reformed, for the duration, gentleman thief; and a nut job who says he was a seeker of the strange and unusual.
