SERIES BACKGROUND:

Kincaid, The Strangeseeker is a contemporary radio drama series created in the mid-1990's by Jim French and stars Terry Rose as Michael Kincaid, a television investigative reporter, who specializes in stories that generally fall into the categories of strange or unexplained events.

Kincaid, The Strangeseeker currently airs as part of Imagination Theatre on KIXI in Seattle and is syndicated internationally as part of Imagination Theatre on radio stations in the United States and Canada. It is also heard on Sirius XM satellite radio and around the world over the Internet. (Imagination Theatre also airs French's The Adventures Of Harry Nile, The Hilary Caine Mysteries, Raffles, The Gentleman Thief, and The Further Adventures Of Sherlock Holmes, The Classic Adventures Of Sherlock Holmes and several other series.)

Previously, Kincaid, The Strangeseeker was heard in the Seattle area as part of Imagination Theatre on KNWX (03/26/2000 - 01/05/2003), THE PEMCO Imagination Theatre on KNWX (02/21/1999 - 03/19/2000), and The KIRO Mystery Playhouse on KIRO (09/15/1996 - 02/21/1999.)

SERIES DESCRIPTION:

Michael Kincaid is an investigative reporter for the fictional cable TV Investigative Channel and specializes in stories that are strange, bizarre, supernatural, and/or extra-terrestrial. He is assisted by his "shooter" or videographer, Shelly Mars. The emphasis of the story line and characters is often on investigating and not reporting - in fact some of his stories (cases) don't even make it to the tube. Often his boss won't believe him; you might not either unless you follow Kincaid on some of his assignments.

Here's a sample story line from a Kincaid, The Strangeseeker episode. In "The Place," Kincaid investigates a series of robberies in which the crooks always fire a Tommy Gun, but there are no bullet holes and no bullet casings. The fingerprints left at the crime scenes are those of criminals that have been dead for 30 years. Just your nice, neat, typical news story?

Starting with the episode "The Find," Kincaid got a new managing editor, Randall Bigelow, played by Richards Sanders of WKRP In Cincinnati fame.

AUDITION/PILOT SHOW:

The Kincaid character first appeared in a KIRO Mystery Playhouse episode, "The Man Who Died Twice," on 02/11/1995. In this episode, the main character was Robert Kincaid, an investigative reporter for the fictional New York Bulletin newspaper. He investigated the death of a terminally-ill patient at a nursing home. His investigation turns up much more than just a possible case of euthanasia. Terry Rose also played Kincaid in this episode.

The following background information was provided by Larry Albert of Jim French Productions. "The episode 'The Man Who Died Twice' was not a pilot per se. After the show was recorded and aired, several of Jim's friends saw the potential of this character for a series. However, we were all thinking of a newspaper series. When Jim decided to develop the show, we were all surprised to see where he was taking it. I guess you could say that 'The Man Who Died Twice' is a de facto pilot."

RECORDING SESSIONS:

The de facto pilot/audition and many of the early episodes of this series were recorded before a LIVE audience.

Through January 2000, recording sessions were held at the Museum of History and Industry in Seattle.

Jim French Productions currently records shows for Imagination Theatre in front of a LIVE audience every two to three months at the KPC. Usually, episodes of The Adventures Of Harry Nile and The Further Adventures Of Sherlock Holmes and/or The Classic Adventures Of Sherlock Holmes are recorded at each session.
