Audition Show: "Will Rogers, Country Editor."

First Show: 07/08/1953. Last Show: 01/20/1954.

Shows Broadcast: 27.

Length: 30 minutes.

SERIES BACKGROUND & DESCRIPTION:

In the 1952 motion picture "The Story of Will Rogers," Will Rogers Jr. played his Father: American vaudevillian, humorist, syndicated columnist, social commentator, and motion picture actor Will Rogers. As a result of the popularity of the movie, CBS aired a 1953-54 radio series: Rogers of the Gazette. The series was a light drama focused on the daily activities of a fictional small town newspaper owner who published The Illyria Weekly Gazette. (Spelling of Illyria is taken from scripts for the series.)

This series was an example of Art imitating Life. From 1935 to 1953 Will Rogers Jr., Bill as he preferred to be called, owned and operated a weekly newspaper and was the editor/publisher. The newspaper was not located in a small town in America's Heartland, but rather in Beverly Hills, CA: The Beverly Hills Citizen. Bill also worked as a foreign correspondent, covering the Spanish Civil War during 1936 and 1937.

SPONSORSHIP:

Rogers of the Gazette was aired on a sustaining basis by CBS. Only the broadcast of 10/15/1953 had a sponsor: the Plymouth division of the Chrysler Corporation.

CAST AND CREW:

Primary Cast:

Will Rogers owner and editor of The Illyria Weekly Gazette played by Will (Bill) Rogers Jr.

Maggie Button Will's assistant played by Georgia Ellis.

Doc Clemens Illyria's town doctor played by Parley Baer and Howard

McNear (1 episode only.) (Note: name also spelled as Clemmens.)

Jill Rogers Will's daughter played by Merry McGovern.

Guest Cast:

As Norman Macdonnell was the director/producer of the series, many long-time members of his "Stock Company" appeared on the series.

"Stock Company" members included: John Dehner, Harry Bartell, Vic Perrin, Howard McNear, Helen Kleeb, Jeanette Nolan, Virginia Gregg, Eleanore Tanin, Lawrence Dobkin, Vivi Janiss, Byron Kane, John Stephenson, Michael Ann Barrett, Edgar Barrier, Lois Corbett, Sam Edwards, Sammie Hill, Joseph Kearns, Jack Kruschen, Richard Beals, and Ann Morrison. Other actors also appeared.

Crew:

Director/ Producer:

Norman Macdonnell.

LOG:

Schedule:

Rogers of the Gazette experienced three broadcast day and time changes during its run. The log is divided into sections with the day and time of broadcast listed at the beginning of each section. All broadcast times are for the Eastern Time Zone.

Episode Listings:

All Broadcast Dates and Times, Episode Numbers (EP.) and Titles are from the series Scripts and were verified using other sources. The Scripts for Episodes 01 through 03 and 05 are untitled. Episode titles were not announced during the broadcasts.

Episodes in Circulation:

24 of the 27 Broadcasts Episodes are currently known to be in circulation. Common collector-created episode titles are shown in Square Brackets [].

Audition Show:

An audition show, "Will Rogers, Country Editor," was recorded sometime in May, 1953. Only the first half of this audition is in circulation. A modified version of this script was later used as the first episode of the series.

Pre-Recording of Episodes:

All Dramatic Portions (actors dialog and sound effects) of the episodes of this series were pre-recorded anywhere from a few days to several weeks before their actual broadcasts. The music and announcer's dialogue for most episodes were usually added on the day of the broadcast. This method of pre-recording the Dramatic Portions of a broadcast and later adding the music and announcer dialogue was known as "Partial Transcription." This method was commonly employed as tape was replacing disks as the preferred transcription medium. Tape recordings allowed easy editing of "blown lines."

Rehearsals That Weren't:

October 31, 2015

Episodes 01, 02 and 05 are available as Broadcast versions and so-called "Rehearsal" versions. These "Rehearsals" are actually "Partial Transcriptions:" unedited, Pre-Cut (pre-recorded) tape recordings of the dramatic dialog and sound effects that include "blown lines" and corrections. The "blown lines" were later edited out of the tape. The music and announcer dialog were added to the edited, pre-recorded dramatic dialog and sound effects on the day of the broadcast.

The so called "Rehearsal" recording of Episode 03 is from an unedited tape from over a month before the broadcast date with all cast & crew present on the Pre-Cut Date including the music personnel and announcer.
